FEEDBACK INFRA
Making Infrastructure Happen

Rajasthan is one of the richest states in India in terms of minerals and natural resources. The state has a diverse range of minerals including copper, zinc, lead, gold, silver, marble, granite, gypsum, and rock phosphate, which make it a significant player in the country's mining industry. However, despite its vast reserves, the state is yet to tap into its full potential, and there is a need for a comprehensive approach towards mining in Rajasthan.

Today Rajasthan is considered as a museum of minerals, both metallic and non-metallic including renowned building stones. It has a vantage position in having significant resources of radioactive minerals, Lignite, Petroleum and Natural Gas. Rajasthan is the richest state in terms of availability and variety of minerals in the country and produces about 57 different minerals. The State is also the sole producer of lead & zinc ores, selenite and wollastonite. Rajasthan was the sole producer of garnet (gem) till 2004-05. Almost entire production of calcite, natural gypsum and silver in the country comes from Rajasthan. The State is a major producer of ball clay, calcite, clay, copper ore/conc., feldspar, fireclay, limestone, ochre, phosphorite/rock phosphate and steatite. Rajasthan is also an important producer of marble, granite, sandstone & Kota stone of various shades. Makrana area is the world famous centre for marble mining.

The Rajasthan Mining Summit 2023, with the theme of "Towards Sustainable & Green Mining," is an event that will focus on promoting sustainable and responsible mining practices in the state of Rajasthan. The summit will bring together industry experts, government officials, academics, and other stakeholders to discuss the challenges and opportunities in the mining sector in Rajasthan.
